DETAILED ACTION

Drawings

1. The drawings are objected to under 37 CFR 1.83(a). The drawings must show every feature of the invention specified in the claims. Therefore, the procedural steps such as testing step; identifying step; and setting step as recited in independent claim 1 must be shown or the feature(s) canceled from the claim(s). No new matter should be entered.

Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. The figure or figure number of an amended drawing should not be labeled as "amended." If a drawing figure is to be canceled, the appropriate figure must be removed from the replacement sheet, and where necessary, the remaining figures must be renumbered and appropriate changes made to the brief description of the several views of the drawings for consistency. Additional replacement sheets may be necessary to show the renumbering of the remaining figures. The replacement sheet(s) should be labeled "Replacement Sheet" in the page header (as per 37 CFR 1.84(c)) so as not to obstruct any portion of the drawing figures. If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

Art Unit: 2667

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Grubert, K. (DE 4321014 A1) in view of Borchardt et al (US Patent No. 6,215,981 B1). Hereinafter, referred to as Grubert and Borchardt.

With respect to claim 1, Grubert discloses in Fig. 1, a circuit arrangement comprises plurality of inputs/outputs 1-4 (signal connections), Mux 10 (input side of the multiplexer can be configured as inputs and outputs, reverse direction), and ADC 11. Herein, the inputs of the integrated circuit are protected against crosstalk (suppressing crosstalk between multiplexed channels of a multiplexer). Grubert does not disclose the steps of testing whether at least one of the signal connections is overmodulated by an impermissible input voltage value and configuring the identified overmodulated signal connection as an output and set to a defined logical signal level. Borchardt discloses (col. 8, lines 10-15 and Fig. 2A) that the overmodulation detector 50 (test is made to at least one of the signal connections is overmodulated) is operative to produce an overmodulation detection signal (configured as an output and set to a defined logical signal level) whenever an absolute value (impermissible input voltage value) of either the signal received (signal connection) at terminal 52 or signal received at terminal 54 (signal connection) exceeds a predetermined signal level which indicates an overmodulation condition. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to include the feature of having a overmodulation detector for detecting, identifying, and setting the overmodulated signal in Grubert's system, as suggested by Borchardt, to avoid distortion.

Allowable Subject Matter

3. Claims 2-6 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Conclusion

4. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

Therssen (US Patent No. 5,561,425) discloses multiplexed delta-sigma A/D converter.

Becher (US Patent No. 5,864,561) discloses circuit arrangement with a multiplexer.

Lechner et al (US Patent No. 4,415,881) discloses digital to analog converter.
